Democrats in Ohio Ignore Sen. Lausche
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Democratic Executive Committee brushed aside Sen. Frank J. Lausche Thursday by endorsing former Congressman John J. Gilligan for the U.S. Senate nomination.
But the action did not upset Lausche, a 72-year-old political maverick known for voting his own way, often in opposition to party leadership.
It "will hurt the cause of the Democratic party in Ohio more than it will hurt me," said Lausche, a record-breaking vote-getter and a former five-term Ohio governor. He announced earlier his candidacy for a third straight six-year Senate term.
Gilligan, 46, won endorsement from the committee by a reported vote of 45-14. But Lausche's supporters predicted defeat for the former congressman in the May 7 primary.
Lausche, in a statement issued in Washington, said he was "neither pleased nor distressed" about Gilligan's endorsement.
"The forces which promoted the rejection of my candidacy would have been glad to support me if I had allowed my thinking and voting to be dictated by them. These forces have unsuccessfully opposed me in every political contest in which I have been since 1943," he said.

United States would "stop all aerial and naval bombardment of North Vietnam when this will lead promptly to productive discussions." And he added America would not take advantage of such a bombing cessation.
U.S. officials said diplomatic soundings so far have failed to bring these two positions closer together. From the U.S. point of view, North Vietnam has not met the requirement that a bombing halt would "lead promptly to productive discussions—although Washington officials haven't explained how they could know in advance whether the discussions would be productive.
Such problems were reported by U.S. officials in Hanoi and Saigon. Brown in a Washington meeting Thursday.
Brown said later he was "very fully in the picture" about the U.S. assessment of Trinh's statement. Part of Trinh's declaration has made it appear "the Hanoi government... indeed wants to start talks," Brown said. But he found other parts—evidently alluding to Trinh's denunciation of the United States—to be "not so encouraging."
But any implication that some new step toward opening talks might be close at hand was not borne out by U.S. officials who said reaction so far from Hanoi to U.S. interest in probing North Vietnam's position had been very meager. What it adds up to, informants said, is word that Trinh's statement was intended seriously.
Officials said the policy implied in the President's last public statement, a willingness to "assume" that North Vietnam would not take a military ad-

British Still Plan to Quit Persian Gulf
By ARTHUR L. GAVSHON
Associated Press Writer
LONDON (AP) — The British government means to stand by its decision to quit Southeast Asia and the Persian Gulf by 1971 despite the protests of Asian members of the commonwealth, high government sources reported today.
The British will try to reassure their partners and allies they intend to remain loyal to all treaty and moral obligations to help them in time of war.
"Just as Australians and New Zealanders and others came to our aid during two world wars," one authority said, "we shall go to their help if the need should ever arise."
British defense planners already are devising arrangements to convince their friends of their sincerity. Two ideas being pondered:
—British air, land and sea forces will participate once or twice a year in exercises with their Commonwealth partners and allies in the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO).
—A British amphibious task force may be set up to call regularly at friendly countries in the region.

Singapore's Prime Minister Lee Kuan Yew has been trying to organize a joint descent upon London this weekend by Australian, New Zealand and Malaysian leaders to reinforce his demands for modification of the British decision.
He has threatened that Singapore might pull her estimated 200 million pounds $480 million in sterling deposits out of London and invite the Japanese into his island state to take over Britain's leading commercial role.
But high British officials insist that no arguments, either from Commonwealth or American leaders, are likely to compel Prime Minister Harold Wilson's cabinet to modify its basic switch from a global to a mainly European political and military role.
"We simply haven't the money for these luxuries any more," one source said.
Advantage of a bombing halt, has not been changed and the U.S. position in detail is flexible.

Doctors said a 27-year-old woman and a 25-year-old man received the kidneys and both are doing well. The corneas also have aided two patients.

Judge Rules in Favor of G&F Commission
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller has lost another court battle. Pulaski Chancellor John T. Jernigan ruled Thursday that the governor's proposal to conduct hearings into alleged wrongdoings by members of the state Game and Fish Commission was illegal.
Jernigan made the ruling in a lawsuit filed by five Game and Fish Commission members to test the legality of Rockefeller's proposal.
A temporary injunction preventing Rockefeller and four persons named by him as a panel to conduct the hearings, was issued the same day the commissioners' suit was filed. Jernigan indicated he would issue a permanent injunction against Rockefeller and the panel members.
Rockefeller had intended to remove the commissioners under Section 5 of Amendment 35.
Jernigan said, however, that the section of the amendment was not self-executing and that enabling legislation was needed to implement the section.
He said "confusion and non-uniformity would or could exist" without enabling legislation to establish rules.
Rockefeller appointed three former presidents of the Arkansas Bar Association—Heartill Ragon of Fort Smith, Courtney C. Crouch of Springdale and Willis B. Smith of Texarkana—to hear his, as yet unnamed, charges against the commissioners.
The governor had appointed H. W. McMillan of Arkadelphia to prepare his case and present the evidence against the commissioners.
"This court certainly recognizes the eminent qualifications of the personnel of the hearing

Copters to Recover 19 Bodies
BATTLE MOUNTAIN, Nev. (AP) — Three helicopters have been assigned to recover the bodies of 19 men killed in a Marine transport plane crash on a snowy, windswept mountain crag in desolate northeastern Nevada.
The Defense Department listed the number of victims at 19, reporting that a 20th man left the plane at Denver Wednesday before it began the last and fatal leg of a flight over one of the West's bleakest regions.
The 12th Naval District in San Francisco, supervising rescue operations, ordered the high-altitude copters to Nevada from El Toro Marine Corps base in Southern California.
One reached Fallon, Nev., late Thursday, refueled, then flew to the Battle Mountain airstrip to await dawn before attempting to reach the scene of the crash on 9,978-foot Mt. Tobin.

The Navy said the other two copters were held overnight at Sacramento, Calif., but would fly to Mt. Tobin at daybreak.
If the rocky, precipitous slopes of Mt. Tobin prove too difficult for the helicopters, plans were made to tackle the peak with motorized sleds. Falling at this, rescue mission spokesmen said the assignment would be turned over to ground parties.
Two searchers from the Federal Bureau of Land Management, Wally Swanson and Gene Corbridge, reached the fire-blackened fuselage Thursday afternoon after a perilous ascent.
They quickly located 12 scattered bodies and were sure that all the other Marines were dead in the snow.
An Air Force plane dropped food and sleeping bags and Swanson and Corbridge spent the night on the frigid mountain-side 32 miles southwest of Battle Mountain.
They reported 22 inches of snow on Mt. Tobin, though in some areas near the wreck huge, jagged outcroppings stuck out above the snow.
Swanson and Corbridge, after climbing for six hours, reported the Marine C-54 transport "burned to a crisp except the tail," and that the bodies were scattered about on the tail.

The plane was carrying a Marine combat team on a 10-day Western tour from Quantico, Va., en route to Seattle when icing on the wing forced the plane down. It crashed on its belly, then slid backward 400 feet into a depression where it burst into flame.
The Marine who left the plane when it stopped over in Denver was Cpl. Robert Beard 19, He and Miss Paul Davis were anxious to announce their engagement, and that fact saved him from being aboard the transport when it crashed.
The corporal said he got special permission to start his leave early when he heard the plane was leaving Quantico, Va., last Monday.
"I only had six days leave and was in a hurry to get home to become engaged," he said.

officers and the evidence officer selected by the governor," Jernigan said. "And that in the instant matter they would, no doubt, conduct a hearing based on accepted judicial standards; however, it is not a test of what would be done in the instant case, but what could be done now or at any future time, regardless of whom ever is seated in the governor's chair."

Romney in Challenge to Nixon
By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer
CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney, acknowledging that the polls show him "well behind" in the New Hampshire primary campaign, challenged former Vice President Richard M. Nixon today to come to the state and debate him.
"Anything less would be a failure on our part, as candidates, to meet our responsibilities to you as voters in this crucial first primary of the most crucial election year in modern American history," he said.
Kicking off his campaign, Romney said he and Nixon apparently will be the only major Republican presidential contenders entered in the March 12 New Hampshire race.
"The New Hampshire primary may answer the question of who the new president will be or whether there will be a new one," Romney said in a statement read to a news conference but addressed to New Hampshire voters.
Romney said he doesn't dispute the polls, which show him trailing Nixon. "I have debated in my campaign when I've been ahead," he said.

This would range between 32,000 and 50,000 troops. In addition, sources report, there are indications additional units have been filtering into that area.
The Pentagon, asked about reports of a serious buildup, refused to comment on what intelligence reports show about enemy activity north and west of the DMZ. This is standard practice.
But sources said implications that a massive invasion is imminent appear to be ill-founded at this point.
Latest infiltration figures show the North Vietnamese moved 600 troops—by actual count, according to sources—into South Vietnam in December. But in addition, prisoner interrogation, documents and information from other sources showed 3,500 to 5,000 troops probably infiltrated.
It takes weeks for intelligence people to check out the "probable" figure. This number generally turns out to be accurate, if not conservative.
"We can expect attacks in the next few weeks against such places as Khe San, Dak To and other areas" in the northern and central highlands of South Vietnam, an officer stated.
Similar actions in the past have come in what is loosely termed the spring offensive of the Communists.
This officer felt the manpower buildup beyond what is normally noted in Laos probably is related more to enemy replacement needs than to startling new enemy maneuvers.
In 1966 U.S. troops and allies killed an estimated 65,000 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops. Last year the U.S. military estimates the enemy lost 88,000 killed—nearly 1,700 per week.
The ideal time to get in units to replace those losses is around the end of November, when the monsoon rains halt over Laos and South Vietnam, improving the condition of roads and trails.
Military men have expected the North Vietnamese would move five regiments into South Vietnam by June this year. These units apparently already have penetrated Laos and are holding fast in areas near the western end of the Demilitarized Zone while other enemy troops move down.

Johnson Sees Wallace as 'Savior'
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Jim Johnson said Thursday that former Alabama Gov. George Wallace "may well be the one man able to save this republic."
Johnson, the 1966 Democratic gubernatorial nominee, told a news conference that Wallace "is one of the outstanding Democrats in this nation."
"He has a message to be heard and he has a right to be heard," Johnson said. "I don't think there is anything more important to Arkansas than getting George Wallace on the ballot."
Johnson has been chosen to head the Wallace presidential effort in Arkansas. He didn't outline a program to get Wallace's name on the ballot but said two lawyers were working on it.
Johnson said he was convinced that if people could hear Wallace, "they will vote for him." Johnson said he thought Wallace could carry Arkansas.
He said he believed Wallace's name would appear on the ballots of every state except possibly Ohio, adding, "He only needs 270 electoral votes and I'm convinced he can get them."
Wallace plans to speak in Arkansas sometime in February, Johnson said.
Asked if he would be a vice presidential running mate with Wallace, Johnson said he didn't believe so because the people who would vote for him would vote for Wallace, anyway.
Johnson, who is involved in a running feud with former Gov. Orval Faubus, said answering criticisms from Faubus put him in an awkward position because he said Wallace thinks Faubus might support him.
"I don't want to do anything to run away any support," Johnson said.
Johnson said, "I just wish that he (Faubus) could for one time do an unselfish thing and say he would join Jim Johnson and help get Wallace elected."

against Communist forces which control much of eastern Laos.
The official Hsinhua New China—News Agency referred to the alleged intruders in a subsequent English-language transmission as those of U.S. imperialism and the Laotian rightists.
Without presenting any figures, it said: "They caused serious loss to the life and property of the local population."
The planes crossed the frontier from the direction of Laos, the agency said, and, "powerfully rebuffed by the Chinese armed forces and people," fled back in that direction.
The Chinese Foreign Ministry was reported to have issued a strong protest. It was not made clear whether this was intended for relay to Washington as well as to Vientiane, the administrative capital of Laos.

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

MRS. DORSEY ALEXANDER MCRAE III

Miss Virginia Ruth Black, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jett Thompson Black, became the bride of Dorsey Alexander McRae III at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon in St. John's Catholic Church at Hot Springs. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey Alexander McRae, Jr. of Hope.
Arrangements of white chrysanthemums and gladioli were placed on the altar before which two candle trees lighted the way to the place of ceremony marked by baskets of the same flowers. White candles in holders of crystal and brass graced the pews.
Monsignor Joseph Burns performed the ceremony with Dr. James Wagner and Rev. Joseph Enderlin, assisting. James Harris, organist, provided the nuptial music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory silk peau de sole and imported re-embroidered Alencon lace. The moulded bodice veiled with lace was fashioned with a wide bateau neckline and long lace sleeves. The slim A-line skirt of back gathered fullness enhanced at the hemline with a wide banding of the lace was complemented by a Watteau train extending from her shoulders with appliques of lace, extended beyond the length of her train in to panels, falling from a coldraped in Alencon lace applied on English net. NEW YORK (AP) — "The Trail of Stanley and Livingstone," the first of NBC's occasional "Great Exploration" series, is the kind of worthy program that good, responsible parents want their children to see. If they happen to be people who enjoy travelogues, they will sit down with the kids and watch, too.

The hour-long special would have gone down easier in a Sunday afternoon time period. It was a documentary—a sort of lanced-up safari in the African wilds. The fancy part was its central figure, former astronaut John Glenn who headed the party and explained where they were and what they were seeing—impressive landscapes, wild animals, colorful natives.

The excuse for the program was that the party of 30 or so persons were following the path of reporter Henry Stanley when, for a journalistic scoop almost one hundred years ago, he spent 236 days hunting for missionary David Livingstone. At journey's end, he uttered the immortal line: "Dr. Livingstone I presume?"

Portions of Stanley's journal, telling of hardship, disease and mutiny among his bearers, were read occasionally. But generally, it stretched the viewer's credibility to try to relate the Stanley expedition to the emergence of African nations today.

Glenn, a pleasant, attractive fellow, seemed to enjoy his African experiences for the most part, and seemed appalled occasionally at the conditions of life he found. At one point, however, the producers felt that the program was becoming a bit tedious—they were correct—so they spiced it up by showing Glenn and company shooting a one-tusked elephant.

As is customary in a television program showing hunting scenes, the elephant was described as a "rogue," and had to be dispatched. This portion, even if the elephant hunt was justified, was distasteful to some segments of the viewing audience.

SAFETY IN NUMBERS?
Dear Helen: My husband and I are separated. He has visiting rights, but he can only see the children in my home. He doesn't visit often, but always brings someone with him.
I feel this is an imposition on his part, and an intrusion on the part of others. Am I wrong?
EX-WIFE OF A CHILD NEGLECTER

Dear Ex: If his guest is female, you're right—he's wrong. But if he brings along a relative or male friend, he may be trying to make the ordeal easier for everyone.
P. S. Don't shoot a man down for child neglect under these circumstances. Visiting rights in the home of the ex-wife are usually pure misery, even for the kids.—H.

Dear Mrs. Bottel: As an ordained minister and a practicing hypnologist, I can write from much experience about the help hypnosis gives in breaking the cigarette habit. Since you asked for comments, here's mine:
Most smokers can be helped if there is present within them at least a spark of desire to quit. It is always good to consult one's medical doctor first for a complete check-up. If he advises against hypnosis as a deterrent, take his advice, but I must say that for normal people there is absolutely no danger in the use of hypnosis in breaking the smoking habit.

Bears Outrun Bobcats by 75-61

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

In the other games last night involving HHS teams, the Bradley Bears outran the Hope Bobcats 75-61, and the Blevins Jr. Girls ousted HJHS from the De-light tournament 49-18.

The Bradley club pressed and ran as they led throughout the contest, which they controlled 34-28 at halftime.

John Thompson had 29 and slick John Knott 27 for Bradley, while Larry East sacked 28 and Wayne Novell 10, for the Bobcats.

A cold second quarter put Blevins in command over the Lady Cats 30-7 at halftime, and they never again faltered.

Betty Montgomery popped 24 and Kidd 14 for the winners, while Dee Singleton managed 8 and Betty Rodden 4 for the locals. Blevins now moves to the finals tomorrow night.

But the Hope Jr., Girls, Lady Cats (imagine the leadout), and "B" Lizards journey to Emmet this evening for three battles, the first starting at 6:00 p.m.

Pros Cheer Clean Ball Decision

By CHARLES MCMURTRY
Associated Press Sports Writer

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Golf's touring professionals cheered today the PGA's decision to continue unlimited ball cleaning on the greens and in intermittent putting.

The U.S. Golf Association last year decreed one cleaning per green for amateurs and continuous putting.

The pros declared the one-cleaning rule would discriminate against early starters because the ball would pick up grass cuttings, sand or other debris because of the dawn dampness.

The PGA Executive Committee voted for the two rules deviations Thursday.

Concerned About Super Bowl Practice

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOCA RATON, Fla. (AP) — Now that John Rauch has the weatherman on his side, he's become a clockwatcher.

The Oakland coach is concerned that his Raiders might not have enough time to properly prepare for Sunday's Super Bowl date with the Green Bay Packers.

The Raiders worked for 90 minutes in bright sunshine Thursday, a distinct change from the driving rainstorm they practice in the day before.

"This is more like the kind of weather I expected," said Rauch, enjoying the shirt-sleeve climate.

"Our problem now is having enough time to get all our work completed. Preparing for a team like the Packers isn't the easiest thing in the world to do," Rauch continued. "The rain didn't help."

Oakland ran through a spirited, tough practice Wednesday but it was necessarily limited by the storm. "We got the most out of it we could in view of the conditions," said Rauch.

Thursday's sunshine was a welcome change and the Raiders ran through their final full drill in pads.

"We'll taper off from now on," said Rauch.

Local Girls End Bradley's Long Streak

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

Many had said that the Hope Lady Cats were the only team that could defeat Bradley's immortalized Bearettes in the 1967-68 season. And the Lady Cats, with two free shots by Carol Anthony with 0:02 remaining, celebrated a 61-60 upending of that Bradley 90-game winning streak.

One of the entire season's goals for the Lady Cats had been to beat Bradley, who before last night was put on a higher plane than all other girls teams. After all, they HAD won 90 straight games along with a couple of State Class B championships on the side, and Bearettie Coach Leo Johnson was beginning to have trouble scheduling games, except with Hope, whom he had already beaten 3 times.

But the Lady Cats put together a cohesive team effort, both guards and forwards playing as though their lives were at stake. The Lady Cats had everything going for them but Coach Charlotte Gibson, who missed the first half while coaching the Junior girls in the Delight tournament. So she left her husband, Gary Gibson, to supervise the Lady Cats.

The Lady Cats had planned to slow the ball down and work for the good shot. However, Bradley jumped to an early 6-3 lead before Hope settled down. The Lady Cats shot back into a tie at 7-7 with 4:30 left in the opening segment. With both teams' playing styles now slipping into gear, they stayed deadlocked, and it was 14-14 at the quarter buzzer.

Everyone knew that the second quarter would make a difference, though. It was in the second period that Bradley always played their best, putting the game away while the reserves waited to play in the second half. Not this time.

After the squads traded a couple of baskets, the Lady Cats suddenly ceased making those crucial floor errors. Intimidated by the surprised Bradley girls, point lead at 22-22 before the Bearettes showed why they've won so many. Their last night's example was catching up again, this time knotting it at 28-28 with 90 seconds left in the half.

Here was another testing period, because in an earlier meeting Bradley had out-scored Hope 9-0 in the first half's final minute, which made the difference back on November 16. This was the 11th of January, however, and this time it was free throws giving the Lady Cats a 32-30 margin at halftime.

Now that was the first time that the Bradley Bearettes were behind at halftime in over four years. The Lady Cats were already in exultation, but at this point Mrs. Gary Gibson walked up to relieve her husband. Many fans stood and gave her a nice ovation, but she was mobbed by her now ecstatic players.

This sequence of events let people know how much the Lady Cats wanted this game, and no one surely would have wished to have been in Mrs. Gibson's car as she drove back from Delight.

Meanwhile a fellow named Leo Johnson had a nice talk with his girls, and they returned to the court with fire in their eyes. Once again the Lady Cats began to give up the ball on turnovers. Soon Bradley regained the lead, which quickly jumped to 39-35.

Both teams played on even terms for the rest of the quarter, and Bradley thusly took their biggest lead, 52-47 into the grand finale.

Realizing the danger of their precious lead, the Bearettes clung on furiously to their pride. They slowed the game down, but the Lady Cats cut into the lead, point by point. Soon it was down to 58-57, and the Lady Cats controlled with 1:50 left.

Somewhere during this time, pressure finally caught up with the Bradley girls, and they began to crack. So when Carol Anthony and Pat Wilson set up for a jump ball in the Hope lane, someone left Hope's Gail Hartsfield all alone at the top of the key-hole.

That was a mistake, because Gail took the tip and popped from 20 feet. This put the Lady Cats on top 59-58 with only 20 seconds to go, and the large Hope crowd was on its feet.

Then, with only ten ticks left, Bradley forward Glenda Knott was fouled and was given two shots. The pressure nearly got to the tall junior but, she pulled something out of nothing and made both shots. The Lady Cats frantically got the ball downcourt, when Carol Anthony went up to shoot with two seconds remaining. The shot missed, but Carol was fouled and received two shots.

Here Bradley called timeout, but nothing could make Carol Anthony lose her head, she easily sank both attempts, and a futile Bradley pass at the end was stolen by Kathryn Coleman. Then the buzzer sounded and the fans yelled for three full minutes.

The night's reward was too much for the Lady Cats, and with their coach they cried a bunch of big, happy tears. It was a story, book ending that all its witnesses, including this writer, shall surely never forget.

Before mentioning the scorers, commendation must be given to all the guards, who really took the pressure. Kay Coleman, Donna Byers, Nellie Churchwell, and Jenny Callicott played their greatest game as Lady Cats, one that they can tell their grandchildren. And, of course, Bradley guards Patricia and Peggy Wilson, Brenda Brackman, and Nancy Adkins all put together another solid performance.

Carol Anthony led the Lady Cats with 29 points, while Gail Hartsfield mopped up 22 and Kathryn Coleman had 10. Glenda Knott recorded 26, Jan Allen 22, and Lynda Williams 12 for the Bearettes.

When questioned about her truly greatest win, Lady Cat Coach Charlotte Gibson stated that "I thought all along that we could beat Bradley, but I knew it would take a top effort from the forwards and the guards, and they did it. I'm prouder of them (Lady Cats) now than I ever have been."

But a deflated Carol Anthony put it best after the game. She only said, "I'm only glad that we don't have to play THEM again." So is Charlotte Gibson, and fourteen other permanently satisfied Lady Cats.

Broyles Says I Formation Overexposed

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Frank Broyles, who installed the "I" formation at Arkansas in 1964 and reaped the rewards for three years, is convinced that the offensive formation's effectiveness is suffering from overexposure.

"We plan to leave the 'I' formation as our basic offense," Broyles said Thursday night. "We might use it a little but we plan to go primarily with two split men and two backs set anywhere."

Broyles said that Texas Tech was the only member of the Southwest Conference which used the "I" when the Razorbacks switched from the Winged-T in 1964.

Arkansas put together back-to-back 10-0 seasons in 1964 and 1965 and led the nation in scoring in 1965, averaging 32.4 points a game. The Razorbacks were 8-2 in 1966 and then slipped to 4-5-1 this past season.

"The big thing is that almost everybody uses the 'I' now," said Broyles. "Passing is becoming more and more important and the men in the 'I' are further removed from getting out as pass receivers."

The installation of a more wide-open formation does not mean the naturally conservative Broyles is going to pass-pass-pass.

"We're putting in two split receivers so we will be able to run," said Broyles. "That may sound like double-talk but it isn't."

"We still want to run first," he said. "By having two split receivers we hope they will give us more of the running game. If they don't, we hope that we will have exceptional passing."

"We've been wanting to do this since the middle of 1966 but we were afraid of getting into deep water," said Broyles.

Broyles said the quarterback would still throw off the sprint-out as well as the dropback pattern.

Broyles would not speculate on who the Razorbacks' quarterback might be in 1968. Both Gordon Norwood and John Eichler return from the 1967 team and freshman Bill Montgomery is billed as a fine passer.

One of the two split receivers will be Max Peacock. Peacock blossomed into a fine receiver about midway through the 1967 season. Broyles said the Shoats had employed two split receivers last fall and that the other receiver would probably come from the freshman team.

Broyles also confirmed that David Dickey, a wingback in 1967, would be moved back to tailback this spring. He said he had not decided who the other running back would be.

Broyles' statement complements an earlier announcement that Don Breaux, an assistant coach at Florida State, had been hired as the Razorbacks' offensive backfield coach.

FSU had one of the most explosive offensive teams in the country in 1967.

"They have a much more varied passing game," said Broyles. "They control the rush with their short passing game like the Green Bay Packers. They've been working on it years compared to one, two and three years at other places."

"They are the most respected football team in that area," said Broyles. "More college coaches go there during the spring than to any other two schools in this country."

Miss King Is Female Athlete of the Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Billie Jean King, the bouncy, outspoken housewife who reestablished America's supremacy in women's tennis, beat out golf queen Kathy Whitworth and figure skating champion Peggy Fleming in being named the 1967 Female Athlete of the Year for 1967 today.

In a vote of 372 sports writers and broadcasters participating in the annual Associated Press poll, Mrs. King, from Long Beach, Calif., drew 196 first-place votes and 854 points.

Miss Whitworth, the leading female athlete in 1965 and 1966, had 70 first-place votes and 523 points while the 18-year-old Miss Fleming was third with 43 votes for No. 1 and 392 points. The points were awarded on a basis of three for a first-place vote, two for second and one for third.

STILL SWINGING, Alice Marble uses the same form she did in 1936, left, during the Pacific Southwest Tennis Tournament. Today, Miss Marble spends part of her time teaching the game at a California country club.

Freshman Rule Cleared by NCAA

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

NEW YORK (AP) — The rule permitting freshmen to play on varsity teams in all sports except football and basketball — which caused some confusion when first announced — has now been clarified by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

The rule was passed at the NCAA convention here Wednesday, but the policy-making council, in an attempt to clear up some questions that had been raised, took up the matter again Thursday.

Basically, the freshman participation rule takes effect immediately and is not retroactive, the council said.

Thus, this year's freshman class may participate in intercollegiate events on varsity teams and in NCAA championship events for four years.

Students who are now upperclassmen and who participated in championship varsity events as freshmen may only take part in three NCAA championship meets.

Another problem is that many major conferences have their own rules forbidding freshman participation. These include the 171-member Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference, the Big Ten and the Pacific 8.

They all indicated they would stick to their present rules, but might be forced to change if placed in a recruiting disadvantage.

Graham Clips Four Strokes Off of Par

By JACK STEVENSON

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Some of the pros were rusty swinging into Bing Crosby's 1968 golf campaign opener while others were surprised they weren't.

Lou Graham of Nashville, Tenn., where it snowed over the holidays, belonged to the latter group. He fired a 68 clipping four strokes off par in Thursday's first round to grab the lead.

Arnold Palmer whose card included a double bogey and two bogeys on three consecutive holes belonged to the rusty contingent. "I haven't played competitive golf for two months," Palmer said. "Just getting started is half the battle. I'm not swinging all that well or putting either."

Jack Nicklaus wound up among the leaders with a 71 and would have been better if he hadn't hit a ball down a rocky embankment on the over-the-ocean 16th hole at Cypress Point and taken a penalty stroke.

As the players switched courses for today's second round of the $104,500 tournament, Dave Hill and Tommy Jacobs were just a stroke behind at 69.

John Pott stood at 70 and with New York City amateur Virgil Sherrill led the pro-amateur division with a best ball 59. Sherrill's 15-stroke handicap proved a big help.

In the Crosby, each of the 168 pros is teamed with an amateur

Royals Beat Boston in Last Seconds

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The fans at Cleveland saw Bill Russell give a big scoring performance and the Boston Celtics put on one of their patented blitzes. They also saw Oscar Robertson doing what he does so well — nullify good scoring performances and blitzes.

Russell scored 34 points, and the Celtics scored 16 straight points in 3 minutes, 18 seconds of the second period for a 19-point lead against Cincinnati Thursday night.

But Robertson scored 40 points including four foul shots in the last nine seconds and the Royals beat Boston 120-116.

In the only other NBA game, Zelmos Beaty scored five points and Len Wilkens eight in the last 4½ minutes as the St. Louis Hawks beat the Bulls 108-101 at Baltimore.

Beaty finished with 30 points and Wilkens 19. Early Monroe topped Baltimore with 32.

In American Basketball Association games Thursday night, New Jersey downed Minnesota 110-96, Pittsburgh trounced Indiana 138-115, Denver beat Houston 100-93, New Orleans edged Anaheim 131-124 in overtime and Kentucky nipped Oakland 110-106.

Likes Green Bay Over Oakland

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

MIAMI (AP) — With all due respect to young Darley Lamonica and his 30 touchdown passes that led Oakland to its first American Football League title, Sunday's Super Bowl game belongs to Bart Starr and the proven old pros from Green Bay.

In the last go round of a long, long season, the old hand-picker has to go to the Packers to make it two in a row for the National Football League over the AFL champs. Let's take a shot at the score:

Green Bay 31, Oakland 16.

If it's close, 40-year-old George Blanda and his ability to kick the long field goal could mean an upset victory for the two-touchdown underdogs from Oakland. But that would mean that Oakland must be able to clamp down on Starr and his wide receivers — Boyd Dowler and Carroll Dale — while cracking the stubborn Packer defense.

Oakland does not appear to have the man-for-man talent of the Kansas City Chiefs, who fell before the Packers last year 35-10. Still, the Raiders must have a better over-all team because they marched through the AFL with a 13-1 record and beat Kansas City twice, 23-21 and 44-22.

Johnny Rauch's Raiders led the league in total defense and rushing defense and were first in scoring with 468 points. Their offense was third in average yardage, both running and passing.

Green Bay was ninth in the NFL in total offense, second in running and 11th in passing. It was first in total defense, 13th (an amazing figure) in running defense and first in pass defense.

Although the Packers allowed an average of 137 yards per game on running during the regular season, they gave up only 11 touchdowns on the ground and 13 in the air for a total of 24. The Raiders, who scored 51 touchdowns to 39 for Green Bay, yielded 29 in all, 11 on runs and 18 on passes.

But all of this presupposes that the competition is equal and the figures do not back that up. The Packers did win the first Super Bowl and the NFL did take 13 of 16 pre-season exhibitions.

Starr, a 33-year-old veteran of 12 pro seasons, has been here before. He proved his cool once again on that frigid New Year's Eve in Green Bay when he spiked home from the one for the winner with 13 seconds to go. Although he was below par in early season and was intercepted nine times in the first two games, he closed strong.

Starr is a past master at probing a defense and finding the holes. If the deep defense shuts off Dowler and Dale, he will go to Donny Anderson and Chuck Marcelin.

Lamonica, 25, in his first year, actually is completing his first as a No. 1 quarterback. He had a great year with 30 touchdowns passes and 220 completions in 425 attempts.

Longest Win Streak in Arkansas Comes to an End Here

The longest winning streak in Arkansas basketball circles came to an end here last night when the Hope girls defeated Bradley, 61 to 60. The streak had run 91 games and members of the team had never suffered a loss before. No. 21 at the free throw line puts Bradley ahead. But it was a momentary thing as No. 13 when they left the court at the final buzzer. In other action the Bradley boys outran the Hope Bobcats 75 to 61. The Bradley girls were Intears 61.

Here is the Sanctuary where men meet God. It is where His message is spoken to the careless, sinful and needy... WHERE MEN ARE MOLDED FOR HIM. This is the church — where men bow to the God of forgiving grace. Partner, if you haven't been a regular attendant, you are missing much. It is a place where we can kneel in prayer, enjoy religious fellowship and receive help for the difficult task ahead. If you will join me here at church, in the spirit of humility, and recognize God as father, friend and Saviour, right then YOU'LL BECOME ONE WITH THE COSMIC LIFE.

Vaccine Booster Shots Valuable Flu Control

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—Why do some doctors insist on a second shot of flu vaccine two to eight weeks after the first one and others say one is enough?

A—All persons receiving influenza vaccine for the first time or several years after the last vaccination should get a second injection. Those who have been vaccinated every year since 1963 need only a single booster injection, preferably in the late fall. The vaccine should not be given to anyone who is allergic to eggs.

Q—Is there any way to get rid of the scars caused by acne?

A—Some skin specialists use a wire brush that rotates at high speed to remove these scars. This process is called dermabrasion or surgical planing.

Q—I have heard that eating yeast can clear up acne. How does this work? How much yeast should I take?

A—Although yeast and various other vitamin-rich preparations have been used in the treatment of acne, there is no evidence that they do any good.

Q—I am 45 and have acne on my face. Vitamin A helps a little but doesn't cure it.
 What do you advise?

A—Although in most persons adolescent acne clears up before the 20th birthday, in some it persists in adult life. There is no simple cure for this. Skin specialists report good results in some victims with a combination of antibiotics and female hormone.

Q—I never use bleaches or dyes on my hair but my scalp breaks out with painful pimples. How can I get rid of them?

A—This is acne necrotica which is not related to teenage acne vulgaris. Some victims are helped by rubbing
 white ammoniated mercury ointment (10 per cent) into the scalp three or four times a week before retiring and washing it out thoroughly in the morning.

Q—My doctor says I have acne rosacea. What is the best treatment for it?

A—The cause of this disease is not known but it is aggravated by emotional upsets and exposure to heat, cold and wind. If local applications and avoidance of aggravating

Opening lead—♥ Q

Ever so often we are asked if it is possible for an expert to recognize a sure squeeze
 as soon as he sees the dummy.
 The answer is a resounding
 NO, but we have seen slams claimed on a squeeze
 as soon as third hand plays to the first trick.

Here is one that we, or at least the older half of us, remember from the first days of contract. Oswald Jacoby was North, and when the late Ely Culbertson was able to bid three no-trump over East's three club preempt,
 Oswald raised the Professor (Ely was called that and deservedly so) to six no-trump.

West opened the queen of hearts. Ely looked over dummy carefully and played the deuce. East discarded a club whereupon Ely spread his and said, "Six on a squeeze."

Needless to say, the opponents objected but Ely proceeded to make the hand as advertised. He started by dropping a low heart from his own hand. This is what is known today as rectifying the count. He had 11 top tricks and needed 12, so he lost one trick right off the bat.

West led a second heart.
 Ely won that in dummy and ran off four diamond tricks.
 He discarded a spade and a club from his own hand. Then he cashed the king and ace of clubs and king of hearts. This left dummy with four spades and a low club.

He turned to West and said,
 "You still hold a heart. You can't have more than three spades." He turned to East and said, "You still have a club. You can't have more than three spades."

Then he turned to the assembled audience and said,
 "The spades are all good. Six on a squeeze — just as I announced at trick one."

 Pass 5 ♠ Pass ?

You, South, hold:

What do you do now?
 A—Bid six diamonds. Your partner has clearly shown that he has diamonds, hearts and spades so that he can't have two club losers. You have shown nothing but that you do have diamonds.

TODAY'S QUESTION
 Instead of rebidding three spades, your partner bids three hearts over your two no-trump.
 What do you do now?

Q—Why is the number 13 universally regarded as unlucky?
A—This superstition is said to have had its origin in the fact that Christ and his disciples made a total of 13 and that he was betrayed by one of them.
Q—What is a distinctive feature of snowflakes?
A—Snow forms crystals which always have six rays, but the designs are always different. No two snowflakes have ever been found to be exactly alike.

Dawdling Is Charged to Communists

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — The North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong have good reason to kick themselves for dawdling. At the same time Ho Chi Minh, the chief dawdler, may have done communism one of its greatest favors.

The dawdling was in failing to try to take over South Vietnam faster. The favor was in making Americans, after their experience in this war, perhaps a little more reluctant to get into another one like it.

It's impossible at this time to draw a sharp distinction, if any, between the Viet Cong and Communist North Vietnam. It can be assumed, until history proves otherwise, that Ho Chi Minh's North Vietnamese were the directing force and chief helper in men and supplies for the Viet Cong.

When the Viet Cong, in the late 1950s, began their guerrilla war to overthrow President Ngo Dinh Diem's government of South Vietnam, they operated on a small scale compared with the forces in the field now.

Meet Long John Nebel

LONG JOHN NEBEL, who would like to be on the air 12 hours a day, seven days a week, laughs it up with NEA Entertainment Editor Joan Crosby, who has voiced a few viewpoints of her own on Long John's radio show.

By JOAN CROSBY
NEA Entertainment Editor

NEW YORK—(N.E.A.)—His ambition is to be on radio 12 hours a day, seven days a week.

He may achieve it. He is Long John Nebel and his schedule goes something like this:

Every evening from 7:40 to 8 he accepts telephone calls from listeners to WNBC Radio in New York. At 8 he gets a 10-minute break while news is broadcast. Then he is back on the air until 9 o'clock for a show called Long John Versus. Whoever his guest of the evening is, Long John takes the opposite viewpoint for a rousing, although generally good-natured argument.

Then he goes out to dinner, generally to Louise's, his favorite restaurant, where he chews some chicken while listening to the fat with his friends. He heads back to NBC around 11, goes on the air again at midnight, and finishes up at 5 a.m.

He heads for his apartment after that (he lives in two of them, under an assumed name to keep cranks from getting after him). One apartment is for living and one is for storage, goes over his mail with his wife, reads, listens to music on his stereo, and around 7 a.m. goes to bed where he gets all the sleep he needs.

But it was hardly a frightening shadow then. It had been helping Diem but there was no certainty this country would get into war for him.

Even by 1960 the United States had only 785 men there, not as a fighting force but as assistants, consultants and trainers. The Viet Cong increased in numbers and success as the years passed.

By the end of 1964 this country had 18,000

Name of a Horse?
Cautious Dog
Correct Time

In his Two Cents' Worth column of the Batesville Guard Paul Buchanan remarks: "Being a collector of unusual names, I was intrigued by an item in the Lepanto News Record about a local man named Earlie Fires. The item told about Mr. Fires going to Florida to watch his son, a professional jockey, ride in a horse race. The son also is named Earlie Fires." "Paul didn't say so, but I suppose the horse goes by the name of Blue Blazes."

While we're on this animal kick I should tell you about my cautious dog. He's superstitious. He believes it's bad luck to offer to go out of the house before I do.

He watches me dress in the morning, but times his action exactly — waiting until I put on my coat before he comes up off the floor, yawns, stretches, and joins me on the way to the outside door. I check the kitchen radio for weather news. He waits patiently.

We arrive at the outside door together. If the day is fair he goes out just ahead of me. If it's raining he goes out anyway — but with a householder-assisted takeoff.

Cable-TV has come to Hope, and one of my fobles being an accurate report on the time of day it is, I noted the clock pictured on Channel 5 was 7 minutes slow. When I reported this matter the community cable office said they were still working on their new equipment — and hadn't yet solved the question of how to adjust their automatically-reporting clock. Currently they've got it approximately correct.

Hope's varying timepieces have been a long-time annoyance to me. Some years ago radio stations priced themselves on broadcasting the exact time. The announcer would say: "At the sound of the gong it will be exactly 8 a.m." But nowadays any given station handles the time quite loosely.

The interconnected power lines, however, relay the exact time to their city customers by a controlled impulse on the supply line. But the City of Hope, having an independent municipal power plant, had a time signal that changed from day to day. You set your electric clock one day, and the next day or two it would be off a couple of minutes.

I complained to the municipal plant, and discovered that the plant had been depending on a Western Union clock — but the clock had broken down, so the correct time was anyone's guess. But now with the plant being supplied wholesale by Arkansas Power & Light Co. electric clocks hold steady.

How can you check the correct time? As anyone with a short-wave radio knows, the federal Government broadcasts a continuous time signal over WWV on 1000 m.c. The origin may be Washington, D.C., or Fort Collins, Colo., or first reporting on Eastern Time, one hour later than ours, the second on Mountain Time, one hour earlier.

The correct time, based on the 24-hour military system, is called out every five minutes around the clock.

It's your one sure link to infallibility.

More Snow Forecast for State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A fairly strong cold front edged into Northwest Arkansas this morning and is expected to leave snow accumulations of up to two inches as it moves across the state.

The U. S. Weather Bureau in Little Rock said the possibility of light snow or snow flurries will spread into Central Arkansas tonight and Saturday.

An accumulation of one inch is forecast for central sections and up to two inches in North Arkansas and southern areas.

Warmer air spread into West Arkansas Thursday and combined with moisture causing fog and drizzle over most of the state early this morning. In Central and East Arkansas, where ground temperatures have remained below freezing, the drizzle froze on exposed objects. Motorists again were urged today to use caution on bridges and overpasses. Streets were wet but unfrozen, but bridges were in a treacherous, glazed condition.

The highest temperature reported in the state Thursday was a 48 at Fayetteville. The lowest maximum was 28 at Little Rock and Newport. Overnight lows ranged from 34 at El Dorado to 28 at Newport, Batesville and Calico Rock.

Rainfall across the state during the 24 hour period ending at 6 a.m. was light with only traces reported. Some light snow was reported Thursday near Newport and Walnut Ridge.

YDC to Call for Committee Conference

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An influential member of the Young Democrats Clubs of Arkansas said Thursday night he feels positive that a resolution will be introduced at a state YDC meeting next month calling for an immediate meeting of the state Democratic Committee.

The prominent YDC member said he felt that 75 per cent of the organization's members would be in favor of such a resolution.

"We've got to find out who's running the party and let someone carry the ball," he said. "I'd like to see the members of the committee locked into a room and fight it out."

This Being Election Year Voters Should Study Double Talk

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Since this is an election year, now is a good time to run through a little drill in double talk.

Double talk, of course, is the art of saying one thing while meaning something else. It is a saving grace in any social situation, and valuable in all seasons, but in an election year it is positively indispensable.

For the beginning student, here is a small primer of political double talk phrases that will become only too familiar during the months of campaigning that lie ahead. Each phrase is followed by its literal translation.

"My gifted opponent" — The bum I'm running against.

"Naturally, every man is entitled to his own honest opinion." — So why should I listen to yours?

"I find the tremendous response to the announcement of my candidacy profoundly gratifying." — Mother phoned and said she'd vote for me, no matter whether anybody else did.

"Jim, to win public support you have to go out and meet the people, shake hands, ring doorbells." — We don't have enough dough in the campaign kitty to buy you television time.

"And now, friends, I'd like to have you meet the brave little woman who has stood faithfully by my side through 30 years of life's storm and sunshine." — Yes my wife sure picked a

Bowles Ends Cambodia Visit, Russia Moves Against Any Pacts

By PETER O'LOUGHLIN
Associated Press Writer
BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Chester Bowles ended his visit to Cambodia today as the Soviet Union moved rapidly to oppose any agreement he and Prince Norodom Sihanouk might have reached to restrict the use of Cambodian territory by the Vietnamese Communists.

Bowles, sent to Phnom Penh by President Johnson, told newsmen as he left for New Delhi that he was "very satisfied with the successful talks."

It was believed in Phnom Penh that Sihanouk agreed for the three-nation International Control Commission to keep a closer watch on the border between Cambodia and South Vietnam. But Cambodian sources reported that Soviet Ambassador Sergei Kouznetsov and M. Mylicki, the head of the Polish delegation to the ICC, had called on Sihanouk to express their opposition to a U.S. offer of two helicopters to assist the commission in border watching.

The two Communist representatives said their governments opposed the offer because the United States did not sign the 1954 Geneva agreements which got the French out of Indochina and set up the control commission.

Sihanouk had said earlier that he was favorable to the American offer but acceptance was up to the commission's three members—India, Canada and Poland—and the two cochairmen of the Geneva conference—Britain and the Soviet Union.

The Soviet ambassador also informed Sihanouk that his government agreed to new military aid for Cambodia, including 50 trucks.

All reports from Phnom Penh told of pleasant and cordial relations between Sihanouk, the Cambodian chief of state, and Bowles during the four-day visit. But at the same time Sihanouk's foreign minister, Prince Norodom Phourissara, was attacking U.S. actions in Vietnam and in effect rejecting American charges that North Vietnamese troops use Cambodia as a highway to South Vietnam and a refuge when pressed too hard by U.S. and South Vietnamese troops.

Cambodian officials reported that Bowles assured the prince that the United States intends to respect the neutrality and territorial integrity of Cambodia and has no intention of launching any attacks against the country.

The U.S. Army's chief of staff, Gen. Harold K. Johnson, said in a speech in Chicago Thursday that he opposes sending U.S. troops or planes after Communist forces that flee into Cambodia. But he said he approves of pursuit by fire—shooting at the retreating enemy even if they are over the border.

China Charges U.S. Plane Violations

TOKYO (AP) — Red China charged today that "three pirate planes of U.S. imperialism and its lackeys, the Laotian rightists," bombed a Chinese border area in a grave war provocation last Sunday.

Dispatches broadcast from Peking said a number of Chinese were killed or wounded by more than 20 bombs and rockets dumped on the Malochai sector of Yunnan Province bordering northern Laos.

A Chinese-language broadcast said the raid was made by "U.S. right-wing Laotian planes," an apparent reference to the American-built T28s flown by Laotian air force pilots.

Russia Not Satisfied With the Safety of Heart Transplants

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The two survivors among the world's five heart transplant patients both were reported improved today, and Soviet scientists announced they had worked on their transplant techniques by creating a two-headed dog.

Soviet Health Minister Boris V. Petrovsky said, however, he is not satisfied with the safety of human heart transplants and criticized South African heart surgeon Christian Barnard.

Other medical news included three new kidney transplants and a teen-age girl rescued from critical condition by use of an artificial heart pump.

Groote Schuur Hospital in Cape Town, South Africa, said Dr. Barnard's second heart transplant patient, Dr. Phillip Blalberg, has improved after a brief setback in which fluid appeared around his new heart. The fluid was drained and no more has appeared, the hospital bulletin said.

In his 11th day after the transplant operation, Blalberg, 58, a retired dentist, "is once more sitting up in bed, dangling his feet over the side, and the sore throat that has been troubling him has improved considerably," the hospital said.

In Stanford, Calif., Mike Kasperak is in his seventh day with a transplanted heart and doctors appeared so pleased with his progress that a regular bulletin on his condition was omitted Thursday. Spokesmen said, though, that the 54-year-old former steelworker's kidney function had returned to near normal and his liver function continues to improve.

Kasperak sat up and dangled his legs from his bed several times. His wife visited his bedside Wednesday and Kasperak wrote her "I love you," he said.

"I made them fire me," Bell said, "I was very aware of the pressure from the governor's office to force me out of the way. Since I know that the board could fire me at any time, I refused to resign for no cause."

ABC Chairman Walter L. Hinton Jr. of Little Rock said Harold D. Hughes of Hot Springs, a Republican, would succeed Bell. Hinton said Bell's last day on the $11,500-a-year job would be Jan. 31.

Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller had previously indicated that he wanted Bell replaced.

Bell took over as director of the ABC June 1, 1965. He said he held no grudge against the board members or anyone else for the board's action.

Bell said that the board last year asked him not to resign. Bell also said he had two letters from Rockefeller—one in which the governor thanked him and the ABC staff for a job well done and one in which the governor says employees who did their work should not fear being fired.

Reds Sending Men Around DMZ to Laos

By BOB HORTON
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — North Vietnam is sending troops around the western end of the Demilitarized Zone into Laos in bigger than usual numbers, military sources report.

Officers say the development means Hanoi is making sure its embattled units in South Vietnam get adequate fighting replacements for action during the favored dry weather period.

Officers said Thursday they also expect the Communists are beefing up for a wave of attacks on U.S. and allied outposts, especially in South Vietnam's northernmost provinces, in the next few weeks.

The gathering of Communist forces in Laos—a heavily infiltrated area—also is being construed by some military men as evidence North Vietnam isn't really sincere in what appeared to be a recent peace feeler by Foreign Minister Nguyen Duy Trinh.

Best available figures at the Pentagon show four to five enemy divisions roaming within 50 miles of the DMZ and around its western end in Laos—a point of east-around infiltration. Most units have been there some

No Assurance From Hanoi, U.S. to Keep on Bombing Enemy

By JOHN HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP) — The announced U.S. search for clarification of Hanoi's peace-talk terms hasn't produced any assurances so far that would lead the United States to call off the bombing of North Vietnam, informed officials say.

Indications are, however, that American policymakers are looking for more than clarification of the apparent shifting of North Vietnam's position.

They are reportedly seeking firm indications that cessation of U.S. bombing attacks would produce not only prompt talks but also a halt in the flow of North Vietnamese troop reinforcements to South Vietnam.

Exact U.S. aims have not been spelled out officially and Secretary of State Dean Rusk made clear at a Jan. 4 news conference he had no intention of giving a detailed accounting of the U.S. price for stopping the bombing.

The State Department has responded with an almost daily "no comment" since the Rusk news conference to inquiries about what results were being obtained through diplomatic probes, which the State Department originally said were designed to produce "clarification" of North Vietnam's intentions.

The U.S. probes began after Hanoi broadcast a statement by Foreign Minister Nguyen Duy Trinh. He noted the U.S. government had repeatedly said it wanted to talk to Hanoi but had received no response.

"After the United States has ended unconditionally the bombing and all other acts of war (North Vietnam) will hold talks with the United States on questions concerned," Trinh said.

The Johnson administration was uncertain whether Trinh's statement was a legitimate attempt to spur peace talks or whether it was designed to generate a U.S. bombing halt without reciprocal action.

The trend in Washington now is to regard it more as psychological warfare than as a peace move.

The U.S. position as stated by President Johnson in a San Antonio, Tex., speech was that the

Marines Shifted to Meet Threat

By ROBERT D. OHMAN
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Marine force in South Vietnam's two northernmost provinces increased to 35,000 men today as another regiment was moved north to meet the threat of North Vietnamese divisions around the demilitarized zone.

Senior Marine officers said there are indications that the Communist troops will concentrate on the provinces of Quang Tri, which fronts the DMZ, and Thua Thien, just below it, in their expected spring offensive in the north.

The shift of the 3,500-man 5th Marine Regiment from an operating area south of Da Nang gives the Marines three more maneuver battalions—which can cover a wide area and aren't tied down in static defensive positions—in Thua Thien. Only two Marine battalions had been operating in the province generally.

The enlarged Marine force, together with about 12,000 South Vietnamese infantrymen, makes the allied and Communist forces in the DMZ theater of war about equal in infantry manpower, according to intelligence reports.

Marine officers in the know said the 5th Marine Regiment was moved north to help provide increased security for shaky lines of communications, including Highway 1, which links allied supply lines from Da Nang to the DMZ, to extend the area under control of the South Vietnamese government, and to extend Marine strength from Con Thien west to the Laotian border, where Marine forces are now thin.

The North Vietnamese have been infiltrating in strength through Laos, cutting through the A Shau Valley 40 miles west of Da Nang into Thua Thien or into the Da Nang area.

U.S. military sources in Washington say this infiltration recently has become larger than usual because Hanoi is making sure its embattled units in South Vietnam have adequate fighting replacements for action during the dry weather. Officers also said they think the Communists are getting ready for a wave of attacks on allied outposts, especially in the northernmost provinces, in the next few weeks.

The North Vietnamese just north of the DMZ fired SAM antiaircraft missiles Thursday at U.S. eight-engine B52 bombers which strike often in the area to knock out enemy artillery and discourage troop buildups.

The U.S. Command said none of the B52s was hit, and the attack did not divert the bombers from their targets. U.S. Air Force and Marine Phantom fighter-bombers retaliated with raids on two missile launching sites which the U.S. Command said were one and two miles north of the DMZ, but no assessment of damage was announced.

The B52s did not return to the DMZ area today, instead striking suspected enemy staging areas in the central highlands 50 miles northwest of Saigon near the Cambodian border.

Israeli to Repatriate Prisoners

By HAL McCLURE

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israel today began repatriating 4,500 Egyptian prisoners of war, including five generals, in exchange for 16 Jewish soldiers and civilians detained in Egyptian prisons since the June war.

A "small number" of Egyptians started moving today, Red Cross sources said.

The exchange agreement—a breakthrough in Israeli-Egyptian relations—was announced by the International Red Cross in Geneva Thursday.

Terms were not disclosed, and a tight news blackout was imposed in Tel Aviv. But informants said the Egyptians were being hailed from the former British Army compound at Ait, near Haifa, to El Qantara, on the Suez Canal.

Officers also said they think the Communists are getting ready for a wave of attacks on allied outposts, especially in the northernmost provinces, in the next few weeks.

The North Vietnamese just north of the DMZ fired SAM antiaircraft missiles Thursday at U.S. eight-engine B52 bombers which strike often in the area to knock out enemy artillery and discourage troop buildups.

The U.S. Command said none of the B52s was hit, and the attack did not divert the bombers from their targets. U.S. Air Force and Marine Phantom fighter-bombers retaliated with raids on two missile launching sites which the U.S. Command said were one and two miles north of the DMZ, but no assessment of damage was announced.

The B52s did not return to the DMZ area today, instead striking suspected enemy staging areas in the central highlands 50 miles northwest of Saigon near the Cambodian border.

Rails Unveil Welfare Plan for Workers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's railroad industry has unveiled a health and welfare plan for 1½ million workers and their families and says it will be financed through "the largest private insurance policy in the world with yearly premiums of about $220 million."

"The only larger plan is the government plan covering federal employees," said John P. Hiltz, chief railroad negotiator who worked out details with 30 union labor unions and virtually all the nation's railroads.

The agreement, said G. E. Leighty, chairman of the Railway Labor Executives Association, should improve labor relations in the rail industry, long troubled by disputes and strikes. He said some 500,000 rail workers will be asking wage hikes of six per cent or more this year.

According to the weather forecast this area is in for some more snow, the prediction is light snow flurries through Saturday with local accumulations up to two inches.
